SATURDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1837.

Mr. Noyes, the Representative in Congress from the Eastern District, has recently been the subject of virulent abuse in the Tory papers, for the course he took in the Bank Convention at New York. He was charged with thrusting himself into the convention without proper authority, and when there, with acting in opposition to the views of the Banks in this State, We see by the Portland Advertiser, that a friend of his has addressed a letter to Judge Ware, who was chosen a delegate by a convention in Portland, which has drawn from the Judge a letter in reply containing a complete refutation of these charges. The length of the correspondence compels us to omit its publication.—The Judge says that Mr. Noyes had as much right to a seat in the convention as he had; that he was as anxious for an early resumption of specie payments, but differed from him in the policy of fixing a day for the resumption; that they acted in perfect harmony and with a full understanding of each other's views; that Mr. Noyes, when he heard that the question of fixing a day was to be decided by a vote of the majority of the States represented, offered to retire and leave him to represent the State, alone, as he was delegated by a larger number of Banks than was Mr Noyes and differed from him in his views upon that question, but that he requested him to stay, as having as much right to vote as himself, and because the vote of Maine could not, on whichever side cast, alter the result. Thus the charges so falsely made against Mr. Noyes fall to the ground, and with them the imputation so unfairly cast upon the Whigs, of wishing to postpone the return to specie payments.

The truth is, and the hypocritical professions of the Tory papers and their constant charging of the blame on the Whigs cannot conceal it, the only party that is seeking by its measures to delay and prevent the return to specie payments, is the Administration party. Let Mr. Van Buren abandon his destructive currency schemes, which he is attempting to force upon the country in opposition to the wishes of the great body of the people, and the Banks could resume at once. All that is wanting to enable them to adopt the measure is confidence; and a change in the policy of Government would restore that immediately.

From Upper Canada. The Albany Argus, Daily Advertiser, and Evening Journal, contain extracts from Buffalo papers to the 22d inst. One of the papers publishes the following letter:—

Fort Erie, 20th Dec 1837.

Gentlemen During my stay in Buffalo yesterday, a number of your citizens were desirous to ascertain the truth respecting the defeat of Dr. Duncombe, in the London District. I have this moment ascertained from his Excellency Sir Francis Bond Head, Lieut. Governor of this province, who is now on this frontier; that he has received an official despatch from Col. McNabb, stating that his force had increased on the march from Hamilton to Oakland, in county of Norfolk, London District, to 1600 men; that 150 of the rebels, or what you call patriots, simultaneously laid down their arms and marched in with a petition to Col. McNabb, stating the gross manner in which they had been deceived by their leaders, whom they declared had betrayed and deserted them. They offered to join in supporting the government and laws, and to assist in taking the leaders, who, by false promises, had induced them to rebel.

I am Sirs, your obedient servant,
Wm. Hamilton Merritt.

The Buffalo Advertiser says: "The Watch House was forcibly entered last night, and the State arms which were deposited in it for safe keeping, taken away. Little or no doubt, we believe, is entertained that the arms are now in possession of the Patriots on Navy Island.

We are informed that on Tuesday evening, the State Arsenal at Batavia, was entered by some lawless persons, through a breach occasioned by the late hurricane, and five hundred stands of arms, and several pieces of ordnance stolen therefrom.

The Albany Argus states, that a requisition has been made by Sir F. B. Head. lieut. governor of Upper Canada, upon Gov. Marcy, for the person of Wm L. Mackenzie, as a fugitive from justice, charged with certain felonies.

Gov. M. declined to comply with the application; on the ground that the offences charged against Mackenzie, being incidents of the revolt, were merged in the higher crime imputed to him of treason.

Besides, it is a well known fact, that the alleged "fugitive" is not within the territory of New York, his head quarters being on Navy Island, within the limits of the province of Upper Canada.

The Secretary of State has addressed circulars to the Governors of New York, Vermont and Michigan, requesting their aid in the preservation of neutrality and to the District Attorneys of Vermont and Northern New York, instructing them to prosecute all offences against the laws of neutrality.

Department of State.
Washington, Dec. 20, 1837.

Sir Information has been received from a source which entitles it to attention, that, after the battle at St. Charles, which took place [illegible] time since, many of the insurgents who had fled from that and other places in Canada, collected at Swanton and Highgate, in the State of Vermont, and that citizens of the United States furnished them with three pieces of cannon, [illegible] arms, powder, lead, and other munitions of war; and that having been thus furnished, on the [illegible] of the present month, made a [illegible] into Canada, where they were met by a body of loyal [illegible], with the loss of [illegible] of their party being killed and others wounded, and that the remainder [illegible] [illegible] inquiry into the [illegible] [illegible] shall be found to [illegible] and susceptible of proof, that [illegible] [illegible] for the preservation of the [illegible] are directed to exert the utmost vigilance, during the pending contest, and to take all proper steps to prevent the recurrence of acts similar to those into which you are now called upon to examine.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
JOHN FORSYTH.

Daniel Kellogg, Esq
United States District Attorney,
Rockingham, Vermont.

P. S. A circular letter, of which a copy is enclosed, has been addressed by the Secretary of the Treasury to each of the collectors of the United States, bordering on the Canadian frontiers, requiring them and their officers to co-operate with the District Attorneys, and other United States officers, in all legal modes for the preservation of the neutrality of the Government and people of this country during the disturbances in Canada.

Department of State,
Washington, Dec. 21, 1837.

Sir Information has been received, from a source entitling it to attention, that Mackenzie and Rolfe, leaders of the insurgents in Upper Canada, were in the city of Buffalo on the 12th of the present month, with the object, it was understood, of obtaining aid in the shape of men and munitions of war; that they were that night to have a meeting in the Theatre; that three popular meetings in favor of the insurgents had already been held, which were numerously attended; and that there was a strong feeling favorable to them in that place, which, it was apprehended, would lead to the organization of a force for the purpose of rendering them assistance.

The President directs that you institute an immediate inquiry into the facts thus stated, and the subsequent movements connected therewith. Should there have been any violation of the law susceptible of proof, you will commence legal proceedings against all such persons as appear to have been concerned. You are also directed to exercise constant vigilance during the pending contest, and to take all proper steps to prevent the recurrence of acts similar to those into which you are now called upon to examine.

I am, sir, your ob't serv't,
JOHN FORSYTH.

To Nathaniel S. Benton,
Attorney of the United States for the Northern District of New York.

P. S. Since the above was written, a letter has been received by the President from the Mayor of Buffalo, containing information which calls for immediate attention. You will, therefore, proceed with the Marshal of the district, immediately to Buffalo, and institute legal proceedings against all such persons as shall appear to have violated the laws of the United States.

FROM HALIFAX.

We have received from our correspondent at Halifax, the papers of that place to the 20th inst. A numerous meeting of the citizens of Halifax was held on the 15th, in consequence of the recent events in Canada, for the purpose of declaring their unshaken loyalty to the Queen, and their firm determination to resist by every means in their power any dismemberment of the British empire, of which they are proud to consider the American Provinces as an integral part. Among the resolutions adopted by the meeting is an expression of their regret at the necessity of the departure of the British forces from that garrison, and an agreement to contribute towards the comfort of the wives and children of those soldiers who were obliged to leave them behind on their departure for Canada at this inclement season. They appointed a committee to raise subscriptions, and to distribute the relief. [Boston Daily Advertiser.]

The following advertisement, from the New York Journal of Commerce, appears to relate to the story copied in yesterday's paper from the Providence Journal:—

To the Public. A false and malicious rumor has recently been extensively circulated, relating to my family, of which I was informed early last evening. It is now undergoing legal investigation. I will pay one thousand dollars for the discovery of the base inventor of this wicked slander, so that he may be legally convicted in a court of justice.

Coal Trade. As an illustration of the mineral wealth of Pennsylvania, it is stated in the Harrisburgh Intelligencer, that the quantity of Coal sent to market the present year, from the coal regions of Schuylkill, Lehigh, Lackawana and Beaver Meadow, exceeds in the aggregate that sent last year, by about one hundred and eighty thousand tons and this, under all the disadvantages of the distress and embarrassment of the country! The shipment of coal from these regions, was in 1820, 365 tons. In 1831, the amount sent to market was about 177,000 tons while in 1837 six years after, the aggregate amount of the shipments of coal, from these mines is stated at 860,770 tons.

Stealing in Church. Yesterday morning, (Christmas,) as the "contribution box" was passing round at the Catholic Church, a man exceedingly well dressed, was observed in the generosity of his heart to put in one cent, but in exchange therefor removed from the box to his pocket a two dollar bill. He was, however stopped, the money taken from him, and after a severe reprimand was permitted to depart.

Extract from a speech of Mr. Wise delivered in the House of Representatives, Friday, Dec. 15th.

The President looks then to other elections where "the measure" might have derived all the "support" which could have been expected in any event from the result:

"Local elections for State officers have, however, been held in several of the States at which the expediency of the plan proposed by the Executive has been more or less discussed."

"More or less discussed!" Please bear that in mind. The expediency of the measure, the President himself admits, has been more or less discussed, and he nowhere denies the fact that the People have declared their will respecting the measure." "You will, I am confident yield to their results the respect due to expression of the public voice." Yes, we certainly, truly, and faithfully will. But why will not he? He tells us:

"Desiring, however, to arrive at truth and a just view of the subject in all its bearings, you will at the same time remember that questions of far deeper and more immediate local interest than the fiscal plans of the National Treasury were involved in those local elections. Above all, we cannot overlook the striking fact that there were at the time in those States more than one hundred and sixty millions of bank capital, of which large portions were subject to actual forfeiture;" (that relates, sir, to one State;) "other large portions, upheld only by special and limited legislative indulgences;) (and that, sir, to another;)—"and most of it, if not all, to a greater or less extent, dependent for a continuance of its corporate existence upon the will of the State Legislatures to be then chosen;" (and that, sir, to yet another State.) "Apprised of this circumstance, you will judge whether it is not most probable that the peculiar condition of that vast interest in these respects, the extent to which it has been spread through all the ramifications of society, its direct connexion with the then pending elections, and the feelings it was calculated to infuse into the canvass, have exercised a far greater influence over the result than any which could possibly have been produced by a conflict of opinion, in respect to a question in the administration of the General Government, more remote and far less important in its bearings upon that interest."

So, sir, so good. So far he only ascribes to "interest" the control of the People in the exercise of their suffrage. He proceeds:

"I have found no reason to change my opinion as to the expediency of adopting the system proposed, being perfectly satisfied that there will be neither stability nor safety, either in the fiscal affairs of the Government, or in the pecuniary affairs of individuals and corporations, so long as a connexion exists between them, which, like the past, offers so strong inducements to make them the subjects of political agitation.

Here you will observe, he is, in contradiction to his last message, for taking again under his paternal care the "stability" and "safety" of the "pecuniary affairs in individuals and corporations;" and thus far he denominates the influence which governed the will of the people to be those only of "interest" and "feeling" In the next sentence he progresses a step further, and goes on from influences of interest and feeling to those of "principle" He says:

"Indeed, I am more than ever convinced of the dangers to which the free and unbiassed exercise of political opinion the only sure foundation and safeguard of republican government would be exposed by any further increase of the already overgrown influence of corporate authorities."

This, then, is his judgment, he has made up his opinion as to the probability of the influence of bank capital on local elections! He is "more than ever convinced", by what? The recent local elections? Of what is he convinced? That the "exercise of political opinion the only sure foundation and safeguard of republican government is enslaved and biassed." By what? One hundred and sixty millions of bank capital! And here is the reason why he will not yield to the recent local elections the respect due to every expression of the public voice! He charges the People with being corrupted slaves of the banks! and says, "I cannot, therefore, consistently with my views of duty, advise a renewal of a connexion which circumstances have dissolved."

The People, says the President of the United States in his annual Message to both Houses of Congress, have been bribed and corrupted, and the exercise of their political opinion enslaved and biassed by the influence among them of some millions of bank capital! This will commend us as a People to the nations abroad! How will it make every American cheek tingle with shame when quoted upon him in some foreign land, where serfs of despots deny the capability and virtue of the people to govern themselves! Sir, it is a libel upon our people upon our country upon democratic self-government! No foreigner should utter it to my face, though he knelt in the presence of a throned monarch! I deny and denounce the foul aspersions upon the citizens, and institutions of my country: and cry shame upon her recreant son who dares thus to slander her character and detract from her moral and political example He is a bastard without shame and would sell his birthright for a mess of pottage! Bribe and corrupt others he would, as he accuses others of being bribed and corrupted! The President thus gravely charges our own people, and he recommends to us again a measure which we have once rejected, for these precious reasons: first, because, though rejected by Congress, it is still "in continued practical operation:" and, secondly, because though condemned by the people which he admits they were corrupted and bribed by bank capital to condemn it!

He admits that the national will is the supreme law of the republic that elections, federal and state, have been held; that the expediency of the plan proposed by the Executive has been, more or less discussed at the local elections, and that these have resulted against the plan proposed by him. He refuses to these results his respect he doubts and defies the supreme law! He says that the will of the people is tainted—it has been bought, and should not be respected. Though thundered in his ears against his measures, he heeds it not—it is bank thunder! and he sets up his individual [illegible] against all the world.

Gov. Cass at Jerusalem. Extract of a letter from the Rev [illegible] Conrad.

Jerusalem, August 14, 1837. We have lately had a visit from General Cass, (late secretary of war, and now ambassador to France,) and family and suite They came as far as Jaffa in the U. S Frigate Constitution, and were accompanied here by Com. Elliot, and several of his officers. The General and family staid at Brother Whiting's and Com. Elliot, and the other gentlemen, seven or eight in number, (exclusive of servants) staid with me. They were here nearly a week went to the Jordan, and the Dead Sea, and left on Friday for Damascus and Beyroot. Mrs Cass and one of her daughters remain here on account of the feeble health of the latter, until the ship returns to Jaffa, when I shall probably go down with them. The general is a fine man, and an honor to our country. The civil and military authorities have paid him marked respect and attention. [Charleston Observer.

A Hint. A king of Persia sent to a tribe of Bedouins the Caliph Mustapha, a very celebrated physician, who inquired on his arrival how they lived. "We never eat till we are hungry and then to repletion," was the answer. "I may retire then," said the doctor, "I have no business here.

Apology for Shutting up Shop. The editor of the New Haven Herald notified his readers that "no paper would be issued" from that office on Christmas day, in the words following, to wit:

"In imitation of the great men of the nation, (holding some relation to the public approbation, in regard to our high station,) we beg consideration, respecting the publication of our little imprimation, on the jubilee occasion, which pervades each Christian nation, each sect and each persuasion, (without further alliteration) on Monday next. According to our church it is a holiday and a day of jubilee—to the rich and the poor (not the rich against the poor) but a day of "equal rights," whose second coming will settle all things of earth, when old Federalism, Locofocoism, Agrarianism, Socianism, Armenianism, Presbyterianism, Universalism, and all other isms which distract the bipeds of this mundane sphere, will pass the ordeal of their final judge. We take upon us the offence of omitting the publication of the daily on Christmas day, and invite all good christians for the want thereof to go to "our church."

Great Improvement in Sausage Making! A gentleman of this city brought a sausage for our inspection this morning, a part of which he had endeavored to masticate for his breakfast, but in vain. On due examination it was found that the principal ingredient in their fabrication was brown paper! This is almost equal to red flannel and 'taters. When will Yankee ingenuity have an end? Another part of the joke is that they were bought at a shilling (16 1-3 cents) a pound, as very superior. It appears to that this kind of sausages, at least, ought to be sold "at the old price." The Chess-Players and their Dumb Assistant. There was at Paris, before the revolution, a celebrated coffee-house in the Palais Royal, particularly well known to, and famous as the resort of eminent chess players. Few people, except adepts, in the scientific and patience-trying game, frequented the place; and yet it was generally well attended, every evening, from seven till ten or eleven o'clock, by, of course, unexceptionable and truly genteel company. A man, God bless him! an honest tradesman of the "rue St Honore," used to repair there every evening without fail, drank his humble "Bavaroise," chewed his "pain mollet." and, with his elbows pressing the board, and his head resting upon his hands, "sat," for three whole hours, "like patience," watching closely and "smiling at" the successive moves of the chess-men. This he had done constantly for several years; and though he never said one single word, never gave a sign of applause or disapprobation, and never interfered with the noble combatants; yet he seemed to take a great deal of interest in the mighty strife. One particular evening he took his seat by a couple of deeply engaged players; and, imperturbably silent, had been spying the scientific evolutions of the pawns at the front of the army the square, deliberate, and heavy motions of the castles or rook the wayward and crab-like strides of the knights the cross-ways and independent processions of the bishops, and so forth, when a dispute arose between the learned antagonists. It was a very delicate point about the right of a move. After a warm contest the gentlemen turned round to the dumb spectator, and begged most earnestly that he would condescend to give his opinion as an impartial umpire, both declaring at the same time, that they would gladly submit to his decision. My good man began instantly to look sheepish, to sit uneasy, and to rub his forehead. "Come, come, you must decide; do not keep us in suspense, what do you think of the case?" "Upon my word, gentlemen," answered he in a mild and submissive tone of voice, "I really know not what to say; for, in truth, I do not understand an iota of the game." "What!" both the players exclaimed, "you do not understand the game? And in the name of Palamedes, who invented it under the walls of Ilion, what demon of imbecility brings you here every night, to look at [illegible] "Why, gentlemen, you behave rather unceremoniously with me, and that is not right. Am I obliged to settle your disputes? I never interrupted you I never offered an opinion never uttered a word. Why do you put yourselves in such a passion? I declare to you that I know no more of chess-playing than of Ilion or Palamedes. But if you will be civil and quiet, I have no objection to tell you why I choose to pass my evenings here, and kill time in looking at the chess board, which is a mere blank to me. "Well, then," eagerly asked the more composed inquisitors, "what can it be?" [illegible] and gnashing his teeth, "I have a [illegible] at home."

THE STANDARD SYSTEM FOR CUTTING GARMENTS, BASED STRICTLY ON MATHEMATICAL PRINCIPLES

THE subscriber has invented and patented an apparatus which he calls the Standard Measure for the use of Tailors.

With this instrument measures can be taken on the body in such a way as to apply on the cloth and lay garments upon Mathematical principles, that will fit the shape measured, be that shape what it may.

The standard system, which is based on this principle is published by the inventor in Boston, in a quarterly Periodical entitled "The Tailors' Guide and Quarterly Review of Fashions."

The inventor will be in this city in a few days when the trade will have an opportunity of examining the work wherein the principles of the system are fully explained and illustrated.

The above patent apparatus can have no higher recommendation than the following. It was exhibited at the late fair held in Boston by the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, and the committee appointed by the managers of that board to examine and judge of its merits, and who were tailors, say of it, that it is a new invention, and that they think it will prove useful to the trade. A Diploma was awarded to the inventor.

To the Hon the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled,

THE undersigned beg leave to represent that a Boom from Ayer's Island, at Stillwater to extend up and across the main Penobscot River through a portion of Ayer's Falls to the eastern shore would greatly accommodate and advantage the Mills and those interested in the manufacture of Lumber at that place and in case of injury to the boom above or the escape of logs or other lumber, would afford to the owners and others great facilities in the preservation of their property and also to the community a large amount of property which now annually passes down said river into tide waters, or below the mills where they can be safely and advantageously manufactured.

Wherefore we pray your Honors to grant us an Act of Incorporation, with such immunities and restrictions as may seem just and as will subserve the interests aforesaid. And as in duty bound will ever pray.

WILLIAM SMYTH, and others.

COLLECTOR'S NOTICE.
TAXES MUST BE PAID

MANY of the good people of this City have had "line upon line and precept upon precept," by way of polite and pressing invitations, to pay their taxes. The strong language of the Assessor's Warrants for the year 1837, as committed to me, will not allow of further parley or delay. Every resident of the city, who has not yet paid his tax, is earnestly called upon to neglect no longer this necessary and important duty, as in such matters "delays are dangerous."

Non Residents should look out in order that the Collector does not make too great a profit in advertising and selling their lands for taxes of 1837. The only way to prevent this is, by calling immediately and paying the same.

The Collector will be at the City Hall from 9 to 10 A M and from 2 to 3 o'clock, P M.

NEW AND VALUABLE SCHOOL BOOK!

THE attention of School Committees, Teachers and Parents is invited to the examination of the "JUVENILE READER," a selection of easy Reading Lessons, by a Teacher, a new edition of which, revised and corrected, we have just published. It is believed that the book is one which has been very much wanted in our common schools, and indeed it was compiled at the request of many of our best Teachers. The compiler is a gentleman of known abilities, and long experience in his profession. The pieces in this book, are chiefly selected from popular works designed for youth, and it is believed, will have a healthy moral influence in those schools in which it is adopted. The book comes at a very low price and has been adopted in a great many Schools with decided approbation, and having been stereotyped, is free from the danger of having any alterations made in it, which is the greatest trouble with all school books.

Those connected with schools, or interested in any manner, are requested to call and examine it

DISEASES OF THE LUNGS

Deservedly the most popular remedy ever known in America!

VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM The following recommendation is from Dr Jacob Myers

Extract of a letter from Dr Jacob Myers

"The Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam has been sold in this country for two years, and the medicine has gained an uncommon celebrity, for it scarcely in one instance failed of having the desired effect. I am by no means in favor of the many nostrums, most of which are impositions upon a credulous public, but that which I know by experience to be effectual, I cannot help but give my approbation thereto A counterfeit preparation has been offered here by a travelling agent of Comstock N Y, and there is also another article vended here that is strongly suspected to be spurious
JACOB MYERS, M D.
Mifflinton, Juniata co, Penn May 3, 1837"

 Many new and highly interesting certificates may be examined on the bill of directions.

☞ There are many counterfeit preparations, assuming wholly or in part the name of the original and true V P. Balsam.

The true article is signed Sampson Reed, on the label to each bottle Price 50 cts
